Voipfone Call Me Back

Voipfone Call Me Back™ is a clever way of getting your customers to call you, perhaps as a way of driving sales from your web site or as part of a your customer support service. It's small button that you put on your web site. Your customers click on the button, and they will see a small window they then type their telephone number in to the box provided and Voipfone instantly calls your number (or you can divert to a landline or mobile phone). As soon as you answer the call you are connected to your customer's number, seamlessly.
