dCMS - more advanced

This CMS is very different from most. It is not powerful, it is not so easy to use for newbies. It is rather to be accessible, developer-friendly and not bloated and overloaded.

It features easy to use administration panel, MySQL database backend (uses only one table), does maximum 3 SQL queries per request (2 usually) and is to be used by a single user rather than a community.

"Pretty URLs", allow you to easily setup a user friendly website and short links are also provided - no more need to enter 80 character long URL in a browser.

Modules are also easily creatable and a good example is provided.

The whole system weighs only 14kB in a tar.gz file and uses as less space as possible.

It is PHP5 only, but surely can be converted to PHP4.

This is for developers who are willing to write their own HTML and store it efficiently.
